(TL:VISA-479; 10-24-2002)

Before moving any refugee to the United States, the post must notify the INS District office abroad having jurisdiction over the case that the refugee is "travel ready" and request a refugee admissions number. No refugee, including a VISAS 93 refugee, may be moved to the United States without receiving a refugee admissions number from INS.

If a refugee does not travel when expected, the post must return the refugee admissions number to the INS District office and request a new refugee admissions number when new travel arrangements have been made.
